// ABOUT ME

Everything started with a passion for technologies.

Strong of my years and always so passionate, I put my technical skills at the service of your creative ideas to make it real.

Developer with a track record of incorporating user and business requirements into cost-effective, secure and user-friendly solutions known for scalability and durability.

// OBJECTIVE

It's not just my background leading successful projects for companies — or my people skills, which have helped me develop great relationships with developers, vendors, and senior managers alike. But I'm also passionate at IT industry and I'm driven to deliver high-quality work.
